

GIVING BACK

■ TruMark Financial Credit Union of Bensalem donated $815 to the Clyde F. Barker Transplant House, which will open in July near the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania to meet the needs of families of transplant patients. Employees raised the money by making donations to wear jeans to work two days last month.

■ Freedom Credit Union of

Warminster is again sponsoring the youth-based, financial literacy television series Biz Kid$, now in its fourth season on WHYY. The program teaches young people how to manage their money and start a business.

■ Members of GPSEG, an association of senior-level executives from throughout the Greater Philadelphia region, donated their time to volunteer for Cradles to Crayons, a nonprofit organization that donates basic essentials to low-income and homeless children. The volunteers spent a day sorting clothing, cleaning and testing toys, examining books, inspecting baby equipment and packing kidpacks at Cradles' Conshohocken warehouse.

Send information about business donations to money@phillyburbs.com

CONTRIBUTED PHOTO

Clemens Food Group's Hatfield Quality Meats and CFC Logistics has partnered with Philabundance and the Nutrition Coalition to supply frozen and refrigerated food to six Montgomery County food pantries. Hatfield Quality Meats and CFC Logistics will donate and store surplus protein products for the pantries: Manna on Main Street and Lamb Foundation in Lansdale, the Keystone Opportunity Center in Souderton, Hatfield Church of the Brethren and Emmanuel Evangelical Church in Hatfield and Shepherd's Shelf in Towamencin. The agencies can place an order each week and Philabundance will transport the product from CFC to Manna on Main Street, a central pick up point. More than 4,000 pounds of protein have already been delivered. From left: Robin Burnstein, Amita Rakhecha, Danielle Archer, Mike Bracrella, Tony Rentsel, Sue Zomberg, Cindy Dembrosky, Doug Clemens, Colleen Watts, Tom Allebach, Daryl Mengel Sr., Elizabeth Rosenberg, Allison Karpyn with her daughter Anna, Merle Landes, Mary Gainer, Albert Smith, Moriah Hall, Marlo DelSordo, Janet Hague, Pam Dyck, Russell Johnson, Amy Curran, Larry Landes, Kevin Shayer, Dana Rissmiller, Frank Mangiaruga and Daryl Mengel Jr.

