

GPSEG announces board expansion

PHILADELPHIA — The Greater Philadelphia Senior Executive Group Board of Directors announced the election of longtime members Anne Robson, Larry Buchwalter and Paul Mitchell to three-year terms as at-large board members.

"Anne, Larry and Paul have been an integral part of GPSEG for some time, and we're looking forward to the fresh thoughts and forward thinking they can offer in leadership roles," GPSEG Chairman Roy Hibberd said. "GPSEG has undergone a period of rapid growth in both membership and programming, so we need strong leadership to ensure that GPSEG remains a premiere executive networking organization."

• A resident of Malvern, Robson is executive vice president and chief client officer at Kelleher Associates LLC career coaching. She previously was director of strategic alliances and planning for McKesson Health Solutions. Robson co-chairs the GPSEG Power Breakfast, which she recently expanded into the Center City market. She is a member of the Philadelphia Human Resource Planning Society, the Alliance of Women Entrepreneurs and the Healthcare Businesswomen's Association.

• A resident of Ridgewood, N.J., Buchwalter is president and CEO at Stilwell Enterprises LLC, a consultative services and acquisition holding company. Prior to that, he was president, CEO and principal owner of Nydic Medical Imaging, a diagnostic imaging services provider. Buchwalter is active in the GPSEG CEO Roundtable, the Private Equity and Life Sciences subgroups and the New Jersey/Princeton chapters.

• A resident of Oaks, Mitchell is an investment banker specializing in mezzanine financing (subordinated debt with warrants) and later-stage equity for growth and M&A. He was the founding president of Core States Enterprise Fund and was formerly president of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Development Fund, a regional small business lender. Mitchell, a GPSEG member for six years, chairs the Financial Executives Subgroup.
